

MARKET SLUGGISH AND PROFESSIONAL IN DAY'S DEALINGS

Hollow Character of Trading is Indicated by the Fact Special Stocks Occupy Most of the Session.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The market was sluggish and meaningless. The dealings were largely professional and mostly in speculative issues whose intrinsic worth remains to be established. The hollow character of the trading may be gauged from the fact that American Can, United States Industrial Alcohol, Mercantile Marine, Baldwin and American Locomotive were among the most active stocks.

A novel departure in dividend disbursements was furnished by the Dupont Powder Company which declared an "extra" dividend of twenty-two and a half per cent on common, the greater part payable in Anglo-French bonds, to which the company was a large subscriber. The sentiment was more strongly inclined to lower prices. In the main quotations were not materially impaired. Copper metal was lower in London. The decline was without effect here. Total sales were 300,000 shares.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales $3,050,000.

(By L. J. Overlock)
BOSTON, Feb. 23.—While the general outlook is favorable in the main the war and its consequences naturally make for more or less fear and dread for this reason. Caution rules the traders' operations to a great degree than one would think possible. Looking beyond the incidents of the day the situation has its strong side the war started a veritable boom in the stock trade, in fact in all the metals. Manufacturers are sold ahead but they are not disposed to accept new orders at reasonable prices. As to the security markets the big interests are doing little and the speculative public are not greatly interested but liquidation from the industrial boom has been pretty thoroughly complicated so that the technical position is therefore much improved. The copper should prove a very profitable purchase at this level as they are away out of line on their tremendous earnings.

Chinese Papers Wonder What America will Do When Yuan Takes, Officially, His Title as Emperor of China.

PEKING.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Chinese newspapers are indulging in much speculation as to what the attitude of the United States will be towards the Yuan Shih-kai monarchy when it is formally proclaimed, and the Emperor is actually enthroned. There have been repeated rumors that the United States is willing to recognize the monarchy, and this report has been encouraged by the papers supporting the change of government.

It is even reported that the United States will immediately recognize Yuan Shih-kai as emperor after his taking the throne, and be the first of all the world powers to greet him in his new office.

Germany and Austria have shown much interest in Yuan Shih-kai's plan, and it is generally believed they will recognize him without delay, thus showing their contempt for the efforts of the Entente Powers to prevent the restoration of the monarchy. The representatives of the German and Austrian governments in China are extremely alert, and will scarcely overlook the opportunity to recognize Emperor Yuan Shih-kai first, unless the United States acts more precipitately than usually is its practice.

The attitude of the Entente Powers towards the monarchy is clearly the one thing which is delaying the progress of the monarchical plan, and working the Chinese government far more than revolutionary outbreaks at a great distance from the capital city. Chinese officials are studying all international precedents for the recognition of new governments, and the vernacular papers abound in discussions as to the position the various foreign governments will take when China formally proclaims her emperor.

The Peking Daily News, which is semi-official in character, prints an editorial today devoted to the consideration of America's recognition policy. It is based largely on a recent book by Julius Goebel, Jr., called "The Recognition Policy of the United States." The editorial reviews the attitude of the United States towards new foreign governments historically, and comments at length on the policy of Jefferson, the first American who enunciated the doctrine that a new government is entitled to recognition when it has established itself de facto that is, when it is master of the situation, able to repel attacks and maintain some sort of public order. The News discussed the application of this doctrine by the United States in its recognition of the new Spanish-American states as they discovered themselves from Spain.

Reviewing the Civil War period in America, the editorial comments on a change of the American policy so as to fit international conditions which had arisen in the United States. The adoption by Mr. Seward, the then secretary of state, of the older view that a new government should have a good legal title as well as actual power, greatly modified the thought in America concerning recognition of a new government, and the News arrives at the conclusion that there are now two distinct views in America. One is that any new government with adequate powers to support itself should be recognized. The other is that any new government worthy of recognition must show itself to have legitimate and popular approval.

"President Wilson," says the News, "would seem to have taken the latter view in the recent case of Huerta, President Roosevelt the former in the case of the rapid recognition of the republic of Panama. Arguments may be adduced for both views, and the facts vary so much in different cases that it is hard to lay down any principle as universally applicable, so that inconsistencies discernible in the policy of American statesmen have followed are not only excusable, but to some extent unavoidable. Whatever views may have prevailed at the time we have to remember that America was remotely alert, and will scarcely overlook the opportunity to recognize Emperor Yuan Shih-kai first, unless the United States acts more precipitately than usually is its practice.

AS WE GROW OLDER

our minds are quite as active as in former years but our strength does not respond when we need it most; perhaps the kidneys are weak, the liver torpid, rheumatic pains or stiffened joints beset us, and we cannot easily throw off the colds that winter brings.

What we need is the rich cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion to renew the blood and carry strength to every organ of the body, while its glycerine soothes the respiratory tract, and its hypophosphites strengthen the excitable nerves.

Scott's Emulsion is a scientific food, of unusual benefit to those past fifty years—particularly during the colder seasons, it imparts warmth and creates strength. One bottle will prove its worth. No alcohol or harmful drugs. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. 15-36 not slow to recognize the nominal republic of China. Will Washington as rapidly recognize the actual monarchy?

Executors of estate of Senator Bosch have sold Spanish Southern Railway to an American company, which is to undertake working of mines in province of Granada and Almeria, in south of Spain, and development of the railway system.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Most forms of uric acid which overwork the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and lousy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's uric acid waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizziness, spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water swells and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delicious, effervescent lithia-water drink. (Advertisement.)

DYKES BREAK AND GREAT FLOODS DO HEAVY DAMAGE IN HOLLAND

Vollendam countryside under water (left) and great rush of water that broke sea walls near Edam. The Dutch people are once more fighting their old enemy in the region just north of Amsterdam. The recent heavy northeasterly gales flung the water over the dykes guarding the western shore of the Zuyder Zee, flooding villages and towns over an area of about seven miles square.

CELEBRATION IN PARIS

PARIS, Feb. 22.—Upwards of one hundred Americans dined in company with distinguished Frenchmen and their guests following the ceremony attending the decoration of the statue of George Washington. Earlier the French government was represented by Dennis Cadin, member of the cabinet without portfolio, and known as the greatest citizen of Paris.
Laurence Benet, president of the American Chamber of Commerce in Paris, was present. He said: "For high reasons and pursuance to tradition, America has preserved neutrality in this great struggle, but the hearts of her people have been with France and the people have tried to show by word and deed their affection and sympathy for the French people."

If present congestion of cargo continues throughout Far East, Tokyo Kisen Kaisha will add several more ships to its line. Java-Pacific Co., a new line, managed by Java-China Japan Line, will run one boat a month from Batavia, via Hongkong and other ports, to San Francisco, adding more ships if warranted.

BREAK UP BRONCHIAL COUGHS, CROUP AND COLDS PROMPTLY

Make the Best Remedy at Home—128 Teaspoonful for 50c.

Don't neglect your first cold, cough or any Bronchial affection, this fall, but commence treatment immediately, and through using the proper medicine, it can be checked from the very start and promptly cured, but I neglected probably will hang on all winter; if it does not develop into something more serious, such as Pneumonia or Consumption. True, there are hundreds, yes thousands of cough remedies on the market. While some are good, there are many which are not, but are positively harmful, due to the narcotics which they contain. So why experiment with these different remedies purely on the strength of some testimonials or on the exaggerated claims of manufacturers when Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectant is sold by Bisbee Dry Co. on such a positive guarantee to give perfect satisfaction, yes even more—money will be refunded by them
